New York Stock Market

NEW YORK, September 30.—Dealings in stock underwent a decided shrinkage to-day from the large volume yesterday. The desire to see the fullitary parade in connection with the Futon-Hudson celebration had the effect of emptying out many of the down-town offices, and left the stock market in a stagmant condition in the afternoon.

The market was dull and sluggish at best, and the professional element found difficulty in moving prices sumiciently to offer a profitable medium for trading operations. The slackened activity of trading was due partly to caution on account of the October first money settlement. The amount called for by October interest and dividend disbursements is estimated at $152,000,000, and there was some apdend disbursements is estimated at $182,000,000, and there was some apprehension that funds accumulated to meet this requirement might have been placed in call loans until needed, and that recall of those loans then might dislodge stocks held on collateral. The money market gave same slight evidence of strain from such a cause to-day, the call loan rate rising to 4 per cent, the highest touched in New York since early in 1908.

ing to 4 per cent. the highest touched in New York since early in 1908.
Declining exterior exchanges indicate revival of demand on New York for cash, and the Subtreasury continues to withdraw from the banks, the amount for the banking week rising to-day to $5,699,000.
London sold stocks in this market, and the demand for remittance thus caused stiffening of the foreign exchange rate. The weekly return of the Bank of England was weak, owing the heavy withdrawals of gold, and the October settlements are likely to expand the loan account materially in the next weekly statement. The dis-

Endeavoring to accomplish all the work possible before winter weather sets in and puts a check on their operations, contractors throughout the city are rushing things with all possible speed. In all parts of the city building is active, and laborers in this line have little trouble in getting work. work.

Nearly all the steel for the three-story addition to the Mutual Building, making it a twelve-story structure, has been put in place, and within the next few days masons will begin on the walls. With the usual run of weather the contractors feel certain that the new work will be completed by the end of this year or very soon after.

The old Burke building, the site of which will be used to double the size which will be used to doube the size of the American National Bank Building, has been razed to the ground, and is now practically ready for the initial work on the foundations. Workmen are busily engaged in creeting scale folding to haul up the steel for maxing the building three stories higher.

Hans and estimates, for the new post-office building at Albany, Ga., were forwarded to the Building Expension of the exchange said that they would submit bids. The amount appropriated for this building is $88,000.

Foundation work for the new stores at the corner of Broad and Jefferson Streets has been brought almost up to the level of the pavement, Perhaps the most active block in the city flust now is that along Eighth Street, be-tween Main and Franklin Streets. On
